The coalition of churches is a voluntary association and does not assume responsibility for the actions of the members and has no control over the actions of those members. The coalition believes in the sovereignty of each local church. Neither the coalition, nor its officers and directors, assumes responsibility for matters that arise between pastors and their local churches, or matters that arise within the local churches. The coalition retains the right to remove any member at any time, when determined to be in the best interest of the coalition.
